Administrative history:

Charles Hamilton Mitchell (1872-1941) was a Canadian civil engineer. He graduated with a civil engineering degree from the University of Toronto in 1898. He was City Engineer of Niagara Falls, N.Y. from 1894 to 1901. In 1905, he was the principal assistant engineer of the Ontario Power Company in Niagara Falls, Ontario, and then studied electrical power in Europe in 1906. Between 1906 and 1914, he designed and built hydro-electric power plants across Canada. He was also a consulting engineer to the Dominion Water Power Branch, Department of the Interior, from 1911-1914 and 1919-1920. In 1919, he was appointed Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto, a post which he held until his retirement in 1941. In addition to this role, he served on a joint Canadian-American board of engineers studying the St. Lawrence Waterway Project (1924), was a member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers (serving as vice-president from 1920 to 1923 and president in 1929), the Institution of Civil Engineers of Great Britain, the American Society of Civil Engineers, and became the first president of the Association of Professional Engineers in Ontario in 1922.

Scope and content:

Most of the field books contain surveys, diagrams and other information about the City of Niagara Falls, Ontario. Some books include other areas such as Niagara Falls (New York), Niagara-on-the-Lake, Fort Erie, Thorold, St. Davids, Chippawa, Bertie, St. Catharines, Welland, Humberstone, Tilsonburg, Orillia, and New Brunswick. The bulk of the collection contains surveys, diagrams and information relating to property surveys and sewers and sidewalks in Niagara Falls (Ontario), as well as hydroelectric power, both within and outside the Niagara area. Books have been roughly sorted into three groups by the engineers and surveyors who maintained the books. There may be some overlap between these groups (especially books 40-50), as not all books were labelled, or the books were maintained by multiple people. The first group of books belonged to C.H. Mitchell, Civil Engineer, Niagara Falls, Canada, and covers the period from 1892 to 1907. The second group of books belonged to John H. Jackson, Civil Engineer, Niagara Falls, Canada, and covers the period from 1904 to 1910. Books 40 through 50 overlap between these two collections, but have been grouped together with Mitchell’s books in order to preserve the numerical order assigned to the books. Several of these volumes contained a typewritten index on loose pages. These pages were separated, unfolded, and placed in order in a folder to facilitate browsing. An index to some of these volumes is included in a separate notebook. The third group of books belonged to Anderson & Barry, Engineers and Surveyors, and covers the period from 1911 to 1921. An index to some of these volumes is included in a separate notebook. Most books also contain an index at the beginning or end of the book. The notebooks are listed and filed in chronological order within each category. A few miscellaneous books that did not fit into these categories are included at the end. Several weekly time books, which contain the names of employees, hours worked and wages paid, is also included. A folder of loose papers of benchmarks containing data on Niagara Falls elevations, locations and descriptions can be found at the end.

Organization:

The collection was sorted into three series:

Series I: Field notes, 1892-1934, n.d.

Inventory:

Series I: Field notes, 1892-1934, n.d.

C.H. Mitchell books, 1892-1907.

Box 1

Index sheets, 1892-1905. Contains typewritten index sheets for books 2 through 50 (non-inclusive).

Index to Field Notes, [18]94-[18]97. Title page reads “Office of C.H. Mitchell, Civil Engineer, Niagara Falls, Canada.” The index provides a list of “City Lot” Surveys, “Outside” Surveys, General Engineering (Private Practice), City Engineering (General), City Surveying (General), and Sewerage. The index covers books 2 through 19.

Field Book #6, 1895-1897. The title page reads “Property of C.H. Mitchell, Civil Engineer, Niagara Falls Canada, Sept. 1895.” Entries are dated from October 25, 1895 to June 1, 1897.
